I tracked 16 different tasks. The first treemap shows you how many tasks were performed that day (and which tasks). The second treemap shows the total of each task completed. Select a day to see the breakdown of each tracked task after hovering over the section on the right.

Scans of envelopes were initially estimates until the final two days. Calls at first and archived documents were also informed estimates. If the envelope count does not match the official count published by the county, that is because the county numbers are correct and mine were based on batch estimation. Other details will be covered in a future video presentation.
